

To all Nursery Parents

The coming week will give you plenty of opportunity to talk and play with your child. Spending time with you and getting involved in your daily routines will help them progress amazingly well.

For those of you who would like a few tips we suggest:

Take time on a nature walk, look for signs of spring, listen to the sounds around them.

Read and share stories and rhymes

Complete simple puzzles

Talk and describe what you are doing constantly.

Watch their TV programs together and comment on what is happening.

Count everything!

Practice making funny faces-(this helps them understand how their face moves for speech patterns)
