

Having a Picnic

Have a picnic with their cuddly friends.

- Can they share out the food?
- Do we all have the same?
- Who has more/less?

Playdough Recipe

1 Cup of flour
Half cup of salt
1 tablespoon oil
2 teaspoons cream of tartar
1 cup of boiling water

Gloop

A fun but very messy activity

1 cup of cold water
2 cups of corn flour

Mix ingredients together.

Going for a Family Walk

When you go for a walk with your family take a bag and gather some treasures eg. Leaves, twigs, fir cones.

What could you create from your treasures?

Maybe a picture of a hedgehog or Stickman, or you could make a home for a fairy?

Baking

Baking is a wonderful tool for learning – it gives an opportunity to talk, follow instruction, uses one handed tools eg. Spoons and to talk about quantity. To experiment to see how something changes when something else is added. Also a perfect time to discuss why it is important to wash our hands.

Literacy

Writing

Your child could write a letter or label a picture by using emergent writing (this is when your child uses their own pretend writing then tells you what they have written).

Communication

A great way to stay in touch with family and friends is over video calls and phone calls. Your child could 'write' a letter to someone.

Talk about what you are doing and explain why

Ask your child questions whilst playing/drawing and sharing a story eg.

- Why have you put a hat on the girl?
- Who are the people in your picture?
- What do you think is going to happen next?

Rooted in Christian values. Seek Within, Wonder Why, Reach out, Aim High.

Psalm 119 (105) "Your word is a lamp to guide me and a light for my path."

- Where is the dog hiding?
- How can we make your castle different?

Copying Rhythms

You could use simple musical instruments or tap the table, with a pencil or tap a spoon on a saucepan etc. Do not make the rhythms too complicated. Tap a beat and get the child to copy. Make the beats fast or slow.
