

Bramley CofE Infant and Nursery School Contingency Plan for Remote Learning

Our vision at Bramley CofE Infant and Nursery School is to ensure that the children, families and staff flourish. This contingency plan aims to ensure that children access high quality remote learning both online and off-line, in the event of needing to learn at home. This plan complies with the expectations and principles previously outlined in the DFE document Guidance for full opening of schools

INTRODUCTION AND AIMS OF THE CONTINGENCY PLAN

In order to ensure that learning is continued during periods of self-isolation or lockdowns, Bramley CofE Infant and Nursery School has developed the following contingency plan. Home learning will be in alignment with the school's planning resulting in a reduction of gaps in learning. It will also provide links to the school and their peers. We have taken into account the comments from our latest parent survey, the age of the children and the Education Endowment Fund's (EEF) research into home learning. With parental support, we feel this plan will enable children to continue learning remotely. We acknowledge that some households have limited access to devices and have taken into account the need for online and off-line activities. We also understand that printed copies of learning and resources may be required.

This plan will be applied in the following instances:

1. an individual is self-isolating for more than seven days;
2. a closure or partial closure;
3. a local/national lockdown is in force.

Our aims are:

- to ensure set learning that is consistent across the school and in line with age related expectations;
- to help families understand age related expectations if being home-schooled due to isolation;
- select on-line tools that will be used consistently across the year groups in order to allow interaction, set learning, assessment and feedback;
- to aid parents in supporting their children at home;
- to offer SEN or well-being ELSA support whenever necessary.

To enable teaching and learning to continue as effectively as possible during the need for remote learning:

Teachers will plan appropriate learning in line with the current national curriculum year group expectations. This will be supplemented with a range of resources from phonics play, white rose maths, oak national academy and BBC bitesize videos. The children and parents will remain in frequent contact with their teacher via email to the school office.

The fundamental principles which underpin our contingency plan for home learning policy include:

- a firm understanding that learning continues beyond the school;
- access to high quality planned provision. The school will support with planning learning or providing hard copies of worksheets. In special circumstances, the school will provide parents with IT provision;
- consistency in the school's approach to remote learning;
- giving opportunities to repeat, explain and analyse knowledge to show understanding;
- prioritise reading skills and continue to foster a love of reading;
- basic maths skills, such as number facts, should be regularly practiced;
- spelling patterns and key words should be regularly practiced, preferably in the context of sentence (when they are ready to do this at Year 1 & 2);
- an increase in challenge with age and consistency of practice across the school;
- opportunities for over learning, consolidation and application of skills and knowledge in line with the mastery curriculum.

Key expectations of the school

- In the event of a period of self-isolation of more than seven days, bubble closure or local/national lockdown the school will provide weekly planning.
- School staff will make daily contact with parents via email or phone. This could be in the form of a typed message or a short, pre-recorded video. A pre-recorded daily video will be sent by the class teachers in the event of a bubble closure or local/national lockdown.
- Provide weekly zoom meetings or telephone call (if an adult at home is present).
- Provide frequent and clear explanations using high quality resources and pre-recorded videos.
- We will monitor the emails daily to ensure families are contacted regularly and any issues are followed up.
- We will monitor the engagement of pupils learning who are learning at home.
- We will communicate whenever necessary with families through emails, newsletters and phone calls.

Appendix 1 : Home learning available for children who are isolating for short periods of time i.e. up to 3 days and are feeling well.

If isolating for 1-2 days, learning will be sent home to the child via their parents, this will usually be the following learning:

- Reading daily either being heard read or reading independently.
- Maths (mental or written activities depending on year group).
- Phonics sound activities
- Weekly spelling/phonic patterns with related words alongside some key words for children to practice using in sentences. (Years 1 & 2).

Each year group have developed age related learning and activities to complete whilst being away for shorter periods. We understand that children isolating with symptoms may not be well enough to undertake the learning activities.

Each year group's home learning can be located on the year group pages on the school website:
